

California Participation Project – April 29 Election Training How Your Nonprofit Can Help Your Communities Vote June 8

Nonprofit staff have frequent, sometimes daily, contact with some of our most under-represented citizens. By providing healthcare, legal services, housing, education, childcare and more, they develop trusted relationships with their clients and can play an important role in educating their constituencies about the democratic process, while also building political strength for their nonprofit. Please join the California Participation Project and our partners for an informative civic engagement training for your nonprofit.

- ★ Learn easy steps to integrate nonpartisan voter participation into your ongoing work.
- ★ Get up-to-date resources and materials on voter education and voting rights.
- ★ Meet local nonprofit leaders and experts in the field of voting and elections.
